A Card.
To the citizens of San Marcos and vicinity. I take this opportunity of asking from you an examination of our holiday goods before making selections elsewhere. I have purchased my stock under specially favorable circumstances, and there is no doubt but that you will be pleased both as to quality and prices. We think that we have the most desirable and best assortment of goods that has ever been brought to this market in the way of Christmas goods. In order to convince yourselves of the truth of this, we simply ask you to call and examine them. We publish this card in order that you may avail yourselves in time of the very rare opportunity of purchasing from us such articles in the way of Christmas goods as you may wish. If you will only give us a call our goods and prices will speak for themselves without any comment from us. Our grand display will take place December 1, 1887. Respectfully,
J. A. BEALL.

We are preparing to "turn a new leaf" in the way of issuing our paper regularly "on time"—Thursday morning. We would ask our correspondents and advertisers to co-operate with us to the desired end by sending in their favors as early as possible, thereby ensuring prompt attention.

Tramps are frequent.
Indian summer the fore part of the week—the finest weather yet.

We regret that the favor of our correspondent "Lad" came too late for insertion this week. But it will not "spoil" till next.

Aunt Jane Jenkins asks us to state that she will sell lunches at all prices at the postoffice on Saturday "for missionary purposes."

The San Marcos Grocery Co., are about building a warehouse some 60 feet in the rear of their store, in order to a wholesale and commission business.

Recollect we club the Fort Worth Weekly Gazette and the Free Press for $2.80 for both. This is only to new subscribers, or such as pay up past dues and a year in advance.

Trifit's "Monthly Galaxy of Music" is again before us through the favor of the publishers. It contains many choice pieces, vocal and instrumental. Only $1 a year. Address F. Trifit, 408 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

By a special to the Express we learn that the Kyle water company has decided to bring water from Blanco river, two miles from town, and not to buy Capt. Ferguson's fish pond and farm as at first contemplated. We were of the opinion that the latter source of supply would be found inadequate.

Are we to have a repetition of the Christmas parade of last year? We learn it is very much desired by the young folks generally. We presume our popular townsman, the ladies and children's favorite, we mean of course Mr. Byron Smith, will again lend his efficient aid in inaugurating a successful movement in this direction.

Raynolds & Daniel are receiving their fall and winter stock, which will be much fuller and more various than ever before. In the line of the soap and perfumery they are already stocked as never before. Our advertising columns from week to week will tell their story of their progress in catering to the wants of all.

Going! Going!
Last week's Cresset advertised that paper and its printing outfit for sale. Who'll buy? Who'll buy!

C. L. S. C.
The San Marcos C. L. S. C. will meet at the residence of Prof. J. N. Richardson, Nov. 24th, (Thanksgiving day) 7 p.m. All members are requested to be present.
J. H. COMBS.

Another Rare Clubbing Offer.
We will club the Free Press to subscribers paying in advance and all arrears, with the weekly National Republican, Washington, D. C., for only $2.40 for both. An excellent opportunity for all wishing to keep posted as to the doings of Congress and other matters of interest about the National capital.

A Card.
The parents of the late Mr. Fred G. Piper desire to tender their sincere thanks to all persons who in any way bestowed upon him any kindness while in San Marcos, a stranger in the town. Also to all who rendered kindly assistance in recovering his body from the river and gave him proper burial in their cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. PORTER PIPER.
Leominster, Mass.

Choosing a Husband.
[Supposed to be sung by the young ladies of San Marcos.]

Long have I waited, and long have I sighed,
Longing at length to be somebody's bride;
Many have wooed me, but none have won,
And faster, still faster, the fleet years run.
Ne'er can I manage to make up my mind;
Love cannot find me, for love is so blind.
Time almost daily new suitors will bring;
Choosing a husband's a delicate thing.
Soon will be over life's season of spring;
Sadly I sing—sadly I sing—
Choosing a husband's a delicate thing.

How my brain aches in its efforts to choose!
How my lips burn, they so often refuse!
How my strange heart by its tension is torn,
Longing for love in its loneliness forlorn!
Three new proposers are waiting my word,
Three more are coming to-day, I have heard;
Which on my finger shall fasten the ring?
Choosing a husband's a delicate thing.
Soon will be over life's season of spring;
Sadly I sing—sadly I sing—
Choosing a husband's a delicate thing!

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh by expelling impurity from the blood, which is the cause of the complaint. Give it a trial.

For Rent.
A small cottage near the Institute with four good lots enclosed. Apply to Mrs. Richardson, the milliner.

GUNS.
New lot of muzzle and breech loaders.
G. W. DONALDSON.

Millinery.
Mrs. Richardson will have on her second large supply of goods this week, which will include everything new and desirable.

Wanted to Rent.
with or without board, a handsome furnished room. A healthy, slightly location. Inquire at this office.

Christmas Present.
Do not make your purchases until you see our new stock of beautiful
—HANGING LAMPS—
Also our new brass table lamps, besides a lot of China, glassware, etc., which we hope to receive by Dec. 1st.

We are also expecting a nice lot of
—ROBERTS PLATED WARE—
Knives, Forks and Spoons which we guarantee full triple plate.

G. W. DONALDSON.

The citizens of San Marcos and surrounding country are invited to call and make the acquaintance of the St. Leonard Hotel, where they have business in San Antonio. No where in Texas can you receive accommodation, better fare, or more home comfort for the money. For $1.50 and $2.00 per day. We have tried it and advise others to do the same.

New Braunfels.
Having a little leisure we ran over Monday afternoon to our sister city, New Braunfels, which we had not visited for perhaps four or five years. This may illustrate the closeness with which we have been tied down to our business, for our recollections of New Braunfels have always been of a very pleasant character, we having always been the recipient when there of marked courtesy and kindness. And so, notwithstanding the position of the Free Press in favor of prohibition, we still found it on the present occasion. Conceding our right to differ with them, and our honesty in so doing, as we freely do them in advocating the other side, we got along very nicely with our German friends and neighbors.

We found the town in a "healthy" condition notwithstanding the hard times. There is a great deal of money in New Braunfels and much steady-going enterprise, so she bears up well under adverse circumstances.

We noticed considerable indications of business. Especially was this the case at the large establishment of Louis Henne, dealer in hardware, stoves, tinware, agricultural implements, etc. He was crowded with customers, but found time to show us through the various departments of his business. We had no previous idea of their extent and variety. His warehouses extend back over one hundred feet from his store rooms in front, and are filled with goods in his various lines. Beyond these fronting on another street he has a large new and elegant two-story residence which is just receiving the finishing touches. It is in the latest modern style from cellar to attic, rooms large and airy, to be supplied with hot and cold water, numerous closets, and grand views from the upper veranda. We have not seen so complete a dwelling for a long time. Near by he has a conservatory of choice flowers and plants, which he said was under the exclusive care of his "better half." Mr. Henne is a large and liberal minded gentleman, who deserves his success. With him is his younger brother George, formerly of San Marcos, who is as clever and good-looking as ever.

We called at the Zeitung office, but the editor, Judge Kobig, was not in; in his absence our young printer friend and former employe, McChurche, "did the honors."

We next called on Mrs. Simon who resides with her mother, Mrs. Guenther, on the same old historic hill. We made the acquaintance of Mrs. Simon in February, 1876, on the occasion of her marriage at the old homestead, and during her brief married life in San Marcos, and we have been fast friends ever since. Here, situated amid spacious ornamental grounds, and flowers, pictures, music and artistic ornaments, the work of our hostess, we found what we take to be an ideal German home—an oasis in what John Bunyan aptly terms "the wilderness of this world." We spent a couple of hours here very pleasantly in converse about old times. The pleasure was enhanced by a call from Judge Kobig, with who we discussed the various phases of the temperance question in an amicable manner. We need not say that we did not exactly agree, but, as ever, we found the Judge a pleasant, liberal minded gentleman.

At the hotel we met Mr. Keeler and Prof. Seale. The latter informed us he has been in Texas some 45 years, mingled with the pioneers and celebrities, and kept a diary all that time. We repeat what we told him, that he should use these invaluable materials in the shape of a published autobiography.

We returned home resolved to visit more frequently our kindred (our mother was of German stock) and friends of New Braunfels.

Notes of Travel.
EDITOR FREE PRESS:—Ever since our advent to the Lone Star State our time has been almost wholly occupied in eking out a sustenance; consequently we have not seen much of the territory of this commonwealth. But when an opportunity presents itself we accept and profit thereby, by coming back home better contented and satisfied with our lot.

A recent trip south of here, through Guadalupe, Wilson and Karnes counties, by private conveyance, gave us some insight into the prosperity and adaptability of those counties. The northern part of Guadalupe is principally owned and thickly settled by the Germans. They have their dancing halls and beer saloons attached, and it is no frequent occurrence to see them hauling their cotton to market on the Sabbath.

These people seem to be prospering. Seguin puts on the style of a live town, with her street car line running from the depot through the principal part of the town. We were shown Gov. Ireland's residence, which seemed to us a neat, home like place. In fact we like the town, and we presume this is the highest praise we can bestow. In the southern part of this county we saw several neat churches built by the Germans, decidedly a contrast between the two sections we passed through.

We come to Wilson, and here we find plenty of wood, sand and burrs (the principal grass), some razor-backed hogs, and some people. Sutherland Springs, formerly the county seat, is a dilapidated village, with probably some dozen or fifteen inhabitants. The springs here are sulphur, and thought by some to contain curative properties. Floresville strives to be a town. We found here a handsome court house built of brick, and a few substantial business houses. We found the people clever and up with the times. We also found a young merchant who bargained to us three pounds of peanuts for a quarter, but when he weighed them there were only two and a half pounds. We called his attention to it, and he said he had to make some allowance for the paper.

Across the San Antonio river in Karnes county we found the soil somewhat like ours, but seemed to be more of a droughty nature. The section we were in was all fenced in pastures, many grand, ranging from ten to twenty miles square. They use tanks and bored wells for watering their stock. We forgot to state that we were on a hunting expedition, our party consisting of seven. We did not find the game plentiful, but had lots of fun. Our party killed seven deer, and wounded three which we found too late to be good. We arrived at home early, after a two days absence, ten pounds heavier than when we started.

PERSONAL.
Our returned hunters report no game out west.
J. E. Morris has a new roof to his dwelling.
T. M. Harwood of Gonzales, was registered at the Hofheinz on Wednesday.
Col. Sledge is in attendance at the Farmers' National Congress at Chicago.
Von Randau, the painter, who formerly lived here, is still residing at New Braunfels.
G. B. Melillo, R. Wilson and A. B. Storey were registered at the Hofheinz on Wednesday.
Mr. Cooper, a brother of the editor of the Georgetown Sun, called on us one day last week.
Our friend Dr. Daniel continues his steady march in the path of the patriarchs. Another daughter.

Mr. J. A. Riley brought in the scalp of a wolf of the larger variety to the Commissioners' Court now in session.

Mr. McNutt of Seguin, has bought out the meat market of Winn and Pope, and will take charge the first of next month.

Yesterday's San Antonio Express brought the news of the death of Corpus Christi on the 14th of Felix Noessel, whose family resides at this place.

Mr. Jacobson, merchant of this place, was once a photographer at New Braunfels, and a good one, judging from some samples of his work which we have seen.

N. J. Travis and others, undismayed by the ill success of our returned hunters, are about starting on a hunt in the direction taken by the Peter Woods company.

The home of Frank Johnson presents the finest array of chrysanthemums and other fall flowers which we have seen. It is really fine and about a challenge emulation as well as admiration.

L. B. Killian and family left for California on Tuesday night. Also Mr. Woolfolk, the baker, and family, Mrs. Hugh McGee, and others. Mrs. G. L. West, W. L. Hocker and others have gone from Martin-dale.

We are under special obligations to our friend T. J. Davis for samples of vegetables grown by him, consisting of turnips, sweet potatoes, etc., the finest we have seen. The turnips are especially large and fine. Mr. D. is well known as one of our most intelligent and successful farmers.

S. P. Chastain, who went with the Peter Woods exploring party as far as the head of the Blanco, has returned and reports that the rest of the party had started for the head waters of the Guadalupe for a bear hunt. They consisted of Peter Woods, Frank Epps, Norman Hopkins and Victor Julian. We surmise the "bear" will suffer.

As indicating the amount of travel which is now coming this way, we notice, besides those nearer home, names of parties from New York, New Orleans, St. Louis, Detroit, Leavenworth, Kan., Dubuque, Iowa, Philadelphia, etc., registered at the Hofheinz. When the new hotel is ready for occupancy it will no doubt attract a still wider circle of patronage.

Roger Byrne is building an "iron-clad" frame house on his lot on the east side, adjoining his saloon, which is on leased property. Our people had been led to believe that he proposed building there a large two-story stone building. We are not "officially" informed as to what will be done in the new building, but our readers will probably be able to guess, with considerable correctness.

Henry.
All quiet about Henry, the last sensation was the burning of the school house five miles below Henry on the night of the 1st inst., together with nearly all the books, etc., belonging to the school, about $40 worth. The trustees secured another house close by and the school is going on as usual. It is thought by some the house was burned by some sneak who had no interest in the house or school.

The tax collector has been around on his annual trip taking in what he could get. He was accompanied by Bob Manlove with a double barreled shot gun, who took in all the quail and doves he could, but the number brought in was not very creditable to Bob as a bird killer taking into consideration the number of shots heard while he was out.

News has just been received that Mr. J. H. Green's little 3-year old boy is dangerously sick.

Bro. Seaton, our preacher, has just passed on his way home from the M. E. conference held at Luling, and informed us that Bro. Garrison would be our preacher for the next conference year, and we are well pleased.

ARM FOR SALE.
I hereby offer my farm for sale. I have about 14 or 15 acres of land in cultivation, two gardens, cow lot, horse lot, and corn crib, two very good log cabins, one of the cabins has a very good yard fence around it. Saddle house and chicken house. The entire farm contains 60 acres, the out land being well timbered. The farm is about 3 miles northeast of San Marcos. I offer it cheap for cash. Any one wishing to purchase may come and see. CHAS. BROOKS.
